

“What Happened Next? An Overview of U.S. Health Reform Implementation after the Affordable Care Act Passed”

Monday, August 15, 2011 · 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Georgetown University Law Center
E.B. Williams Law Library, Room 358
600 New Jersey Ave., NW Washington, DC 20001

Lisa Keels, J.D.
Division of Oversight at the Center for Consumer Information and Insurance Oversight
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

---

Lisa Keels, J.D. works in the Division of Oversight at the Center for Consumer Information and Insurance Oversight (CCIIO), of the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). She was previously a fellow at Georgetown Law, both at the O’Neill Institute for National and Global Health Law, and in the Women’s Law and Public Policy Fellowship Program. Lisa holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Princeton University and a Juris Doctor degree from Georgetown Law.

Presentation Overview

This presentation will provide an overview of the work of the Center for Consumer Information and Insurance Oversight (CCIIO), a center that was created to implement the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Following a brief discussion about the structure and function of CCIIO, the conversation will focus on early market reforms and regulations implementing the ACA, specifically addressing the 2010 Patient’s Bill of Rights.